SPOTLIGHT ON NEWBERRY FAMILY OWNED BUSINESSES

Erb's West End Family Market & Catering

When it comes to wanting a quick bite to eat or a hearty meal, Williamsport's West End offers a plethora of mom and pop establishments all serving various takes on subs, pizza, sandwiches, burgers, soups and full course meals from steak dinners to Chinese food - many have been in the neighborhood for decades and all have devoted fans.

The latest to join the tradition is Erb's West End Family Market and Catering, located at 2424 West Fourth Street. Owners Scott and Cara Erb always wanted to have a family business and Scott, who was raised in Newberry, seized the opportunity when the former Turner's Market became available.

When insideNewberry visited the market, it was bustling with activity. Cara was placing the finishing touches on an order for their signature Old Forge Style pizza and making subs while Scott also was taking phone orders and making subs. A large pan of home-made lasagna was in the oven in preparation for delivery to a hungry Crosscutters team. They both greeted customers by name, chatted about how things were going for them and knew what each one liked on their sub... just what we've come expect and enjoy about our neighborhood businesses. If variety is what you want, they offer a total of 19 different subs. Among the 5 salad choices, their taco salad served with chili is popular.

If you want fresh, home-made meals for your next party, special event, or you're just not up to cooking for a crowd in the summer, let the Erb's cater it for you. For groups of 25 -500, they will help you create your own menu - everything from light fare to full course meals - all reasonably priced.

Erb's West End Family Market and Catering is open Monday - Wednesday; 10 AM to 7 PM; Thursday - Saturday 10 AM to 8 PM. Closed Sunday. 326-4411.

Kast Hotel Pub & Grill

Although we've always referred to the restaurant and pub at 723 Arch Street as the Kast Hotel, it really did not function as a hotel for decades. That all changed when owners Kevin and Shawn Pequignot renovated the second and third floors to create 18 rooms with private baths. They restored the wood floors, trim and doors to retain the feel of the original period when the hotel was the home away from home for many railroaders. That wonderful old hotel feeling is not diminished by what we've come to expect in modern accommodations; attractive bath rooms, cable TV, Wi-Fi, air conditioning and laundry facilities on each floor. Short term rates are very reasonable for the budget conscious traveler; longer term stays enjoy special rates. For reservations or information call 570-322-3388. Kast Pub & Grill Hours: Monday - Saturday 11 AM to Close; Sunday, 1 PM to Close.

Oberjoch Boarding & Grooming Kennels

Oberjoch Boarding & Grooming Kennels has been a fixture in the Newberry Area for the past 62 years. Located on Reach Road it sits on the grounds of the original farm house built long before it was surrounded by an industrial park. Many have wondered about the origin of Oberjoch name.

Oberjoch (pronounced Ober - yok) is the name of a mountain range in Bavaria. It was there Mrs. Lois Stroud, the kennel's founder, fell in love with her first German Shepherd Dog. Oberjoch became her registered kennel name and when she decided to work with all breeds of dogs as a career the name was carried on. When Mrs. Stroud retired in 1980 she sold the business to her groomer, Carl Young.

Carl and his wife, Waylene ran the kennel for 32 years until Carl retired in 2011. It was then that current owner, Stacy Miller, purchased the business from Carl.

Stacy and her husband Jonathan have made many changes since then. Aesthetically, they gutted and remodeled the office and reception area, added a small retail sales area, installed air conditioning and added insulation in the kennel building. There is now a large fenced in play yard where dogs can run, play, smell new smells or cool off in the splash pool. A new electric bathtub lowers to the ground for large breeds and old dogs to easily step into has been installed and has been a huge hit! Procedurally, cats and other small animals (guinea pigs, hamsters, etc.) are now welcomed as overnight guests and daycare is now offered. There are more exciting plans for improvements in the months to come! These include fencing in the large field behind the kennel (Stacy has invited the Williamsport Dog Training Club to hold their obedience and agility classes there!) and adding a separate building for an indoor dog park (for those with cabin fever during the winter months) as well as free play daycare...exciting!

Stacy encourages everyone to feel free to stop in and ask for a tour of the facilities. She and her staff are happy to show you around. Oberjock Kennels is located at 2800 Reach Road. Phone 570-323-2721.

Riepstine's Pub Opening Soon

If you enjoy handcrafted ales and lagers and traditional pub fare, then you're sure to look forward to the opening of Riepstine's Pub, Newberry's latest addition to friendly places. Located at 913 Arch Street (the former Tailwinds), new owners Bart and Tess Rieppel are creating a place like those you found back when Newberry was first settled. You know, the Public House where everyone was welcomed and no one was a stranger.

A place to sit and enjoy a freshly brewed beer, some comfort food and leave the world outside. For up-to-the-minute information and opening date, find them on Facebook. insideNewberry looks forward to reporting on their grand opening in the October issue.

INSIDE OUR SCHOOLS...Reports from Newberry's Schools

Lycoming Nursery School

A Unique Opportunity for Children

Many parents need to send their children to daycare because both parents work full-time. However, there are a lot of families that have a parent at home, family/friends that help and private sitters. Lycoming Nursery School (LNS) is an affordable non-profit school that offers excellent social and academic preparation in addition to music class, Story-mobile, Stretch-n-Grow and monthly field trips. The school is located at 825 Arch Street in the Lycoming Presbyterian Church across from Dunkin Donuts. Although the school is located at Lycoming Presbyterian Church it is non-sectarian, which means any faith/religion is welcome and encouraged to attend.

Lycoming Nursery School is a unique opportunity for children to grow and learn with teachers that are licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Education. Three classes are available, divided by age: a 3 year old class, 4 year old class and 5 year old class. Some children attend 1 to 2 years, however many children attend all 3 years receiving 3 unique school experiences with each class specifically geared toward the age and appropriate activities. LNS is a family-oriented school and parents can be involved as much as they wish to be. Parents and siblings are welcome to attend special event days & field trips. There are also opportunities for parents to serve on their parent-run board. Classes are held from 9:00 am to Noon, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, starting in September through May. If there is enough interest, one optional class may be offered to 4 and 5 year olds on Friday from 9-Noon.

Applications are currently being accepted for the 2013/2014 school year. Space is limited, but we would love to have your child attend this fall. To find out more about Lycoming Nursery School, visit our website www.lycomingnurseryschool.com or call the registrar, Lisa, at 570-772-3982.

Saint John's School of The Arts

Wanted: Kids Who Like to Sing & Dance!

Something new is happening at Saint John's School of the Arts: We're introducing a unique, one-week summer day camp called Praiseformance! — for kids entering 3rd through 8th grades. It'll be held from 9:00 AM to 1:00 PM, Monday through Friday, July 15-19, 2013. It's a chance for kids to learn lively praise music and worship music (from the KidsWorks musical releases) and choreography to accompany each song, in preparation for a public "Praiseformance" (concert) to be given at the end of the week (Friday, July 19, at 7:00 p.m.).

Do you like to sing in your school chorus or church choir? Or move to the music when you sing? Then this might be the perfect opportunity for you to express your talents in a safe and fun environment. Students will also make their own props and posters in preparation for the public "Praiseformance." There is a $26 Registration fee (additional members of same family $20) plus $99 tuition. The cost includes all materials, snacks, and instruction. Instructor is Carol Schwanger. The school is located at 2101 Newberry Street. West Branch School

WBS Teacher Travels to Japan

As a high school student, West Branch School teacher Stacie Lakatos lived in Japan as an exchange student. It precipitated a lifelong desire to travel and study cultures. She has brought that love of learning and global understanding to her classroom at West Branch School. Now Lakatos has the opportunity to travel again to Japan, this time as part of a Study Tour funded by the Japan Foundation Center for Global Partnership. The Study Tour is being arranged by the Five College Center for East Asian Studies (FCCEAS) in Northampton, MA. Stacie found out about the study tour opportunity through the National Consortium for Teaching about Asia. Last year she had participated in an NCTA class at Bucknell University and received a newsletter announcing the Study Tour. The tour consists of ten teachers from throughout the country who went through a competitive application process. Lakatos received word that she had been selected for the Study Tour in late February.

West Branch School students try on traditional Japanese clothing.

She will travel this summer and spend two weeks in Japan. The focus of the Study Tour is peace education. As such, the teachers will spend time in the cities of Hiroshima, Nagasaki, and Kyoto. Peace education has a long history in Japan. Schools, museums, NGOs, and individual efforts in Japan all contribute to the basic goals of peace education—learning from the past and cultivating mutual understanding between cultures so that citizens will make rational future choices regarding violence and nonviolence. The FCCEAS will undertake Peace Education in Japan and the U.S.: A Curriculum for U.S. Classrooms as a means of building understanding among teachers and students in the two countries on this sensitive topic. The scope of peace education to be examined in this study tour encompasses learning about and from the Pacific War conflicts, and creating an environment of respect and understanding between the people of Japan and the U.S. As for her own goal for her trip, Lakatos said, “I want to open up children's minds, show them that there is a large, rich world out there full of people that are wonderfully different than they are, and yet fundamentally the same. I want them to embrace the differences between people through understanding, with the hope that understanding leads to peace.”

CHURCH OF CHRIST Improvements Progress

The work on the newly acquired building of the Newberry Church of Christ (the former Ascension Church) is progressing every week. Since last October the men of the congregation have been working together to prepare a nursery, a Junior Worship Center along with another classroom in the basement of the building. In the sanctuary, mountain stone is replacing the altar area which has been raised several steps for additional visibility. We will also be putting in a new audio and video system.

It is our hope to be worshipping in our new building this September. An exact date has not yet been set. At that time, we are planning an open house so as many who wish may come to see it. We hope to time our celebration and dedication with the Jewish Feast of Tabernacles. It will be very appropriate time to give thanks and praise for the goodness of the Lord. We appreciate all the encouragement we have received from the community and do hope all will feel free to come and worship with us.

KENNETH L. MASTERSON

March 28, 1925 – May 30, 2013

The Newberry neighborhood and community is now a little out of tune with the passing of Ken Masterson. However, the unique melodic symphony he composed throughout is 88 years continues through the thousands of students, fellow musicians, family, friends and neighbors who were fortunate to participate in the orchestra that was his life; many of us played a few notes or phrases in the brief time spent in his classes learning an instrument or at least developing an appreciation for music; some played solo parts as they enjoyed deeper and longer musical associations with Ken through performing in many bands and choirs in the area. The longer movements were harmonized with his memberships in benevolent organizations and love of gardening. He conducted his orchestra supported on the podium of a loving wife and family. To paraphrase a line from an old ballad, Ken's song may have ended but his melody will linger on in the hearts of his community and the Newberry neighborhood he called home.

Ask the Lawyer

Answers to questions are provided by Newberry resident, Christian Frey of Lepley, Engelman and Yaw. Attorney Frey has been practicing law in Pennsylvania since 2003.

Question: My neighbor's tree has limbs that hang over the boundary line between our properties. I have asked him to cut the limbs back, but he refuses. May I cut the limbs off myself?

Answer: Generally, the law does not favor "self-help" remedies. In this instance, though, the tree limb encroaching on your land is considered a trespass, and therefore you may cut the branches that extend onto your property. However, you may want to consult with an attorney before you take such a drastic step, just to make sure that you are not opening yourself up to any liability as a result of cutting/damaging your neighbor's tree.

The "Answer" above is for general information only. Small variations in individual fact patterns often change the legal outcome or an attorney's conclusion. You should not solely rely on the information above. For complete and accurate legal advice you must seek and retain an attorney to represent you.

Website Calendar Provides Free Way to Promote Local Events

James V. Brown Library's new website, Connect Williamsport, www.connectwilliamsport.com, has seen tremendous growth in community participation since it was launched on February 1st.

"The purpose of the site is to be a clearinghouse for all community events taking place in the Williamsport area," said Barbara McGary, library director. "Our goal is to have people use and update the site frequently to discover the many wonderful activities taking place in Williamsport."

Community organizations, nonprofits and businesses are encouraged to register on the site as a user so they can add their events as they occur. Or, members of the community may email their events to events@connectwilliamsport.com for consideration. Once approved, the events will be entered into the site. According to Robin Glossner, development director at the library, a unique feature of the site is that it can be filtered to search for events within categories, such as arts, music and entertainment; downtown nightlife; family fun; community and local government; games and sports; health and wellness; and free events.

HABITAT ADDITION PROJECT BREAKS NEW GROUND IN NEWBERRY

Greater Lycoming Habitat for Humanity announces a new home-building project on Linn Street in Newberry. Most Habitat sites involve construction of an entirely new home, but in this case the work involved is an addition to an existing Habitat home. “This is an unusual construction project for us, and we are excited to get started in the coming weeks,” said Ana White, Home Development Coordinator. According to White, the property on Linn Street was deeded back to them by the original homeowner, allowing the organization to recover the property and help provide for the needs of a new family.

The addition will provide much-needed space and affordable home-ownership for Libby Williams and her five children between the ages of one and 13. “God works in mysterious ways and he has definitely worked through the people at Habitat. Thank you to everyone who took part in this life changing event for my family and me. We will forever be thankful. From my family to yours, thank you for being such a blessing!” said Libby Williams. “We are so proud of Libby,” said Kristine Combs, Director of Affiliate Operations. “She has worked hard with us and demonstrates the character and commitment that we expect of our homeowners.” Groundbreaking for the addition is scheduled in mid-June and the Williams family is scheduled to be in the home by summer’s end.

As with all Habitat projects, qualified homeowners are families who have demonstrated a need for decent, affordable housing. Habitat homes are primarily built by volunteers using donated and purchased materials. Homeowners must make a down payment on their homes, work a minimum number of service hours (known as “sweat equity” hours) with the organization and meet all other requirements of home ownership by the local Habitat organization. A no-interest, 30-year mortgage is held by Habitat and paid for by the homeowner. This arrangement enables families that may otherwise not be able to afford to own their own home to become productive, taxpaying community members.

Habitat is looking forward to other scheduled projects in the near future. Groundbreaking for a home on Diamond Street in Newberry will begin immediately after the Linn Street addition is complete. Additional Habitat projects will be starting this summer through a new program, A Brush with Kindness that will offer qualified homeowners help with exterior maintenance. If you are a homeowner in need of help with yard clean-up, landscaping or minor repairs,

Lycoming County Regional Transportation Partnership

Recently, Pennsylvania Department of Transportation highlighted a partnership between the two public transportation providers in Lycoming County. STEP, Inc. and River Valley Transit have begun a regional transportation partnership through the joint purchase of fuel.

This collaboration paves the way for future opportunities like Condensed Natural Gas (CNG) purchasing. The project has many direct and indirect positive impacts, including:

- Controlling gasoline costs through bulk purchasing.
- Creating operating efficiencies by providing a convenient fueling location.
- Preserves jobs and reinforces Pennsylvania’s funding commitment to River Valley Transit’s new facilities
- Paves the way for future CNG partnership
