NEWBERRY BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

MAS Printing Keeps the Presses Rolling

One of the unique aspects of our Newberry neighborhood is the number of family owned and operated businesses that flourish here.

MAS Printing has been a West End presence for over three decades. What began as a hobby, doing projects for family and friends in high school printing shop, became a passion and vocation for Michael Anthony Salvatori. (MAS Printing)

Certain of his career path Mike enrolled and graduated from Williamsport Area Community College, now known as Pennsylvania College of Technology.

After graduation Mike worked for two large printing departments in the region and came to the realization that he would prefer to be his own boss. Mike purchased a used printing press and set up shop in the rear of Candelori's Market that was located on the corner of Funston and Federal Avenue. He soon outgrew that space and moved his business to a rented garage. In 1982 he purchased a storage unit at 116 Emery Street that he expanded to a 24' x 80' shop, the current location of MAS Printing.

Mike's wife Camille came on board full time in the early 90's. She handles all the logistics of every order and works closely with customers. "We bend over backwards to give customers what they need when they need it," she said.

MAS Printing's talented design artist creates unique logos, letterheads, business cards, labels, newsletters, postcards, invitations or placemats to convey your message. MAS also provides promotional items like pens, bags, mugs and calendars.

Today, most of the work is done digitally although Mike still uses lead type and offset printing presses for certain projects. Mike commented, "With digital there is no waste because the print run can be precise."

Another service available at their Emery Street location is West End Copy Center. "People love the convenience of our Newberry shop where quality black and white or color copies can be done very quickly, said Camille. We can also send faxes as well."

Recently the Salvatori's have begun to add a new dimension to their business by combining their shared love of all things antique and unique and are on the verge of opening "Salvo's Salvage."

The small store will be stocked with antiques and repurposed items, such as wine stands, coffee tables, estate jewelry, and just about anything antique or unusual. The store is slated to open on some Saturdays this fall. Mike invites anyone who wants to shop during the week to come to MAS Printing and we will take you out to the store to shop.

Michael & Camille Salvatori of MAS Printing also have recently opened Salvo's Salvage, a small, unique shop of antiques and repurposed items

WEST END CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY CENTER NEWS

My, my! The pages of my calendar seem to be in constant motion. It feels like just yesterday that the YMCA Summer Day Camp got started again downstairs, and now they have all been back to school for some time. Our Clothes Closet no longer has shorts and tank tops on display, replaced by sweaters and winter caps.

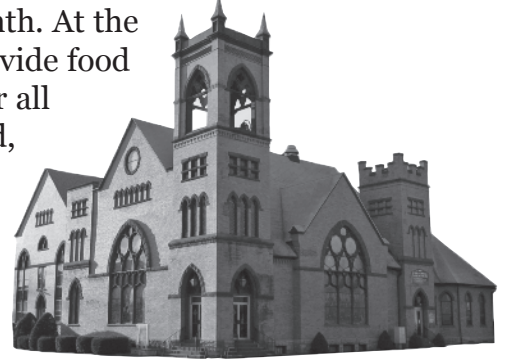

Yes, good things continue to happen inside the walls of the WECCC. We currently have no fewer than 14 volunteer-run, non-profit programs of one sort or another using the WECCC as their home base. Certainly a goal we all have is to use the WECCC as a beacon for outreach into our community and with God's help we are doing it.

One of the programs operating out of our kitchen area downstairs is our Backpack Program. You know, when I was a teacher at Roosevelt I saw too many children who didn't have enough food. Oh yes, they got lunch at school and maybe breakfast, but then the weekend came and they did not have enough to eat. The Backpack Program offers children who qualify a "backpack" of food at the end of the week. Out of our downstairs they provide about 100 children with food for the weekend.

In the first week of October our Thrift Shop will be having another Jewelry Sale. Throughout the month we will also be taking orders for our FAMOUS APPLE DUMPLINGS! They'll be made and ready for pick-up the last Saturday of the month.

In November be looking for two of our fundraisers. We will be pre-selling Christmas Wreaths available for pick-up the first week in December. November is also the month the Boy Scouts from Troop 14 Saint John's-Newberry help us with Cardboard Camping for the WECCC. November is National Homeless Awareness month. At the WECCC we provide food and clothing for all who are in need, many of whom are just one emergency away from being homeless.

Please consider sponsoring a Boy Scout or come in and ask Todd for more details.

December will come in as fast and furious as the other months, with our Toy Sale starting right after Thanksgiving. I hope December is not too anxious of a time for you. Please try to enjoy the spiritual side of Christmas. I hope you are able to this year. Some families and organizations will rent our Community Room for their annual parties and as usual our Clothes Closet, Soup Kitchen and other programs will be open and functioning. Then we'll turn out the lights till the New Year.

So with that said, until next time, peace, Happy Thanksgiving, and Merry Christmas.

The Principal's 100 Club still exists and we continue to offer the Millionaire Magicians, The Magic School Bus Award, The Golden Dust Pan Award, The Top Hat Award and Star Student of the Month. Keeping the magical theme, we introduced students to our Magic Millionaire Manners – our district's behavioral expectations to Be Safe, Be Present, Be Responsible and Be Respectful. We would love for people to stop who would like to know more.

We hope that our families will continue to support these expectations at home as well. Keeping the lines of communication between

Lycoming Nursery School

Another Exciting Year

Lycoming Nursery School is back in session and excited for another amazing school year. The fall season brings many activities and opportunities for the students as they will visit Carpenter's pumpkin patch to pick the perfect pumpkin, visit a city fire station to learn about fire safety, and also partake in all the fun activities of Halloween, including a costume parade and party. In November, the school will host a Thanksgiving dinner for our families, prepared by the students and staff.

December is an exciting month for our school as we prepare for the holidays as well as our most popular fundraiser, our annual Breakfast with Santa will be held Saturday, December 3rd! Children and their families can visit and take photos with Santa and enjoy a delicious pancake breakfast. There will also be a silent auction of baskets fill with goods from local businesses including restaurants, jewelers, independent consultants and much more! Advanced tickets will be available to purchase from family members of attending students as well as at the door.

Lycoming Nursery School is a non-profit preschool certified by the PA Department of Education. Our goal is to provide a safe, secure

West Branch School

Gardening at WBS

WEST BRANCH SCHOOL
Where children love to learn

Last spring, the students at West Branch School had the opportunity to plant a garden behind the school, which provided many authentic, hands-on learning experiences. To decide what to plant, students first learned about this area's planting zone and which particular vegetables would successfully grow in Williamsport, PA. Then, they brainstormed a list of vegetables they wanted to grow in the garden. In late spring, the students planted kale, Swiss chard, and lettuce by seed. The gardening preparation and planting was mainly done by the school's upstairs students (grades 3-6), although the younger students did have a chance to plant some seeds. Over the summer, current teacher Colleen Winton and retired teacher Steve Hulslander planted tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, peppers, broccoli, and cauliflower. Colleen and Steve continued to care for the garden over the summer months when school was not in session. Now that a new school year has begun, the students will continue to harvest and enjoy the vegetables.

Through the use of the school's garden, healthy eating is emphasized as students are able to sample fresh, hand-picked vegetables. Before school ended last June, some kale had grown and was ready to be harvested. It was not uncommon to see students walking around the playground snacking on kale. The upstairs students also harvested some of the kale, made a kale salad with homemade dressing, and ate the salad "family style" sitting around the tables in one of the school's two full-sized kitchens. Since returning to school, students have picked tomatoes, peppers, and kale to take home to their families.

Last spring, WBS student Bryce Barr helped to prepare the school's garden for planting.

Reaping the rewards of a glorious garden at WBS.

Anyone who has ever grown vegetables realizes that planting and maintaining a garden requires patience, responsibility, and hard work. Through working in the school's garden, the students have had real-life opportunities to develop these character qualities, as well as a sense of community and a true appreciation for all the steps involved in growing healthy, fresh, and nutritious food. WAITING FOR KISSY

For kids nothing rivals Christmas for the most special day of the year, not even birthdays. When I was three I was especially looking forward to Christmas because a new doll was being advertised on Saturday morning TV. Her name was Kissy and she actually puckered her lips and made a kissing noise when you pulled her arms together. Oh, how I wanted her!

I didn't scheme like Ralphie did to get his Red Rider BB gun in "A Christmas Story" but I did worry that Santa might not be able to make a doll as unusual as Kissy. Luckily I knew that presents not only came from Santa but also from mommies, daddies and grandparents. So I still had hope.

One shopping trip we stopped at the Kiddy Car Toy Store on Washington Boulevard. Finding Kissy in her red checked dress on the shelf, I looking longingly at her. Mom saw me staring. She gave her usual response with a small sly smile, "We will see, Billie Leigh. Maybe for Christmas." That smile was encouraging.

As the days crept toward Christmas my desire for Kissy grew. The little girl on the TV commercial was already having so much fun with hers. My other toys were suddenly boring.

I began to snoop. Checking closets and under beds I had no luck. I eyed the attic door. The staircase was windy and creaky plus I wasn't to go up them without Mom. Certain that Kissy was hidden there I couldn't chance it. So I continued to count down the days.

Me (about the age of 3)

At long last Christmas Eve arrived. After candle-light service at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church (I got to hold my own candle that year with Dad's help) I quickly put on my pj's, brushed my teeth and climbed into bed shutting my eyes tight so as to get to sleep sooner.

Still dark when I awoke I had a horrible sore throat. I ran to my parents' room and cried out.

"Oh" my mother exclaimed, "you have the mumps!" Back to bed I went to wait for the doctor. Christmas was delayed! My brother Mike wasn't helpful as he taunted me with his new baseball glove.

After the doctor left I was finally able to open gifts in my room. The first one Mom handed me was a box just about the right size...and sure enough it was my beloved Kissy!

HISTORY OF NEWBERRY LITTLE LEAGUE - PART II

This year's Little League World Series brought a lot of national, regional and local pride to a lot of our loyal readers. The local Keystone Little League fought hard in the Regional round against the eventual winner, Endwell, New York. Our hats are off to those young men who brought home the win.

But what of the local scene? When was the last time a local team has been in the mix for a world championship? A great many of us were not even born when the last local team won (Maynard Little League), and a lot of us were not born when our Newberry All Stars represented Pennsylvania and the Eastern Region in a World Series!

Let us go back to the beginning. At the outset a league was founded for a group of boys from the local Lincoln School. They were originally refused admittance to the Original Little League because they were outside the boundaries set by Original. A group of men formed the league for boys who attended Lincoln School. Some of these men include; Ralph Cupp, Dewey Knecht, Lewis Eckstein, Vic Derr, Bill Shooter, Raymond Krezmer, and B.C.Hunsinger. A few of these men went to Mr. Daley, President of Sweet Steel and acquired an old cornfield on Arch Street to make a field.

All of the above men put in the hard work with the help of Father John Piontek from the Holy Rosary Church, to build the field. Allison Construction donated a dozer and a man to help! Eventually the Schultz Family donated the land that Newberry Little League now calls home. We have grown from one field and a press box to four fields, an awesome concession, and two press boxes; one for the girls and one for the boys. We have several practice fields and batting cages for our players. And in addition, because of our rich history we have a monument park honoring those that have volunteered more than they had to.

After our appearance in the 1947 National Little League Series, later changed to the Little League World Series, it would be two decades before our League would ascend the heights of stardom and appear again. To be continued... Look for the rest of this story in the next issue of insideNewberry.

WILLIAMSPORT BUREAU OF FIRE

Don't Wait – Check the Date!

Why do we spend so much time focusing on smoke alarms? Simple. Time and time again we have seen misconceptions about smoke alarms, many of which can put you at serious risk in the event of a fire in your home. This fall's fire safety message addresses smoke alarm replacement with a few key messages:

- Smoke alarms should be replaced every ten years
- Make sure you know how old your smoke alarms are
- Remove your smoke alarm and look at the manufacture date on the back of the alarm, if it's more than ten years ago, replace it!

Don't forget your basic smoke alarm procedures also!

- Test smoke alarms monthly by pressing the test button
- Change your batteries at least once a year
- Install alarms in every bedroom, outside every sleeping area, and on every level of your home including the basement
- For the best protection, install interconnected alarms. When one sounds, they all sound.

Always remember, smoke alarms are your first line of defense and greatly increase you and your family's chance of survival in the event of a fire.

NEWBERRY ESTATES NEWS

Finding a Family at Newberry Estates

This July I accepted a temporary position with Newberry Estates. On my first day I entered the building expecting to help with filing and answering the phones. I was not expecting the wonderful family atmosphere. Immediately I felt comfortable and accepted, and I saw that everyone that walked through the doors felt the same.

That first day ended with a cook-out to recognize the opening of the new community grilling and picnic area. Many of the people who reside at Newberry Estates attended, and even volunteered a helping hand. Stories and laughter were shared while everyone enjoyed the snacks and drinks provided.

Since that first day, the feeling of family has only grown stronger. And there always seems to be an event going on to keep it that way: a community cook-out, a summer lunch program, and a 5 day Bible Club. Even without the special events, the staff and community members make this little corner of Newberry feel like home.

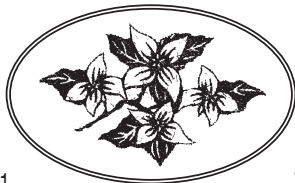

My position here may be coming to an end soon, and as much as I would love to stay, I can't be sad. How could I be sad when I have had the honor of becoming a member of this amazing family?

18th Annual

VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS

Saturday
November 19th
9 AM – 4 PM

This Year's Theme...

"Lumber ~ Boom to Barons"

The theme "Lumber ~ Boom to Barons" highlights the rich era of the logging industry in Williamsport, PA. This was a time of 'boom' for our city. In fact, Williamsport became known as the "The Lumber Capital of the World" in the late 19th century because of the lumbering rage. This was largely due to the vast amount of hardwood available in our area. Many working-class citizens cleared the land and made cut lumber available for the building of magnificent homes for the barons. Affluence was readily visible in the beauty of these architectural mansions. Please come experience this wonderful age in Williamsport and explore the homes, churches and museums that make our proud city a Historic District! There are a variety of events and holiday activities planned throughout the entire weekend. Enjoy a kick-off to your holiday season in celebrated Williamsport. Hotel Packages are available. Visit our Facebook page: Victorian Christmas in Williamsport and online: <https://victorianchristmaspa.wordpress.com> for detailed information.

Holiday Gift Ideas

When it comes to holiday gifts, we all face challenges. Budgets or time to shop may be limited, intended recipient may have everything they need or is difficult to please. The joy of giving can get lost in obligation and frustration. Rekindle the joy of giving – supporting small mom and pop businesses and non-profit organizations that offer us goods and services throughout the year. Many offer Gift Certificates and Gift Cards.
