Rappel spots are filling up quickly for Williamsport's first rappelling event, Over The Edge, set for Saturday, October 27th. Those wanting to be the first to experience the 105' descent from the roof of the William Hepburn High Rise are encouraged to sign up soon at www.otecwe.com/williamsport. There are only about 25 spots left for community members out of the original 75.

Over The Edge is a daring, urban adventure that urges participants to think and act boldly for the well-being of our community. Those who commit to raising at least $1,000 for either the YWCA, the YMCA, or the WASD Education Foundation will experience Williamsport's longest possible rappel, from the roof of the Lycoming County Housing Authority's William Hepburn High Rise apartment building on Saturday, October 27th.

However - those who raise $1,500 will be rewarded with a video recording of their rappel, thanks to Intrada Technologies. "You can't take a camera or your cell phone with you, so the only way to record your rappel is to raise an additional $500 - which will benefit those who rely on the YWCA, YMCA and School District Education Foundation," said Jessica Probst, River Valley Regional YMCA Development Director.

"Those nervous about the fund-raising process don't need to be afraid," said Anna Thompson, YWCA Communications & Development Director. "We'll give you tips and provide some great opportunities for each person to reach their goal."

Each edger will receive a personalized tool-kit and be invited to a special VIP reception to celebrate their accomplishments the evening before their rappel. "The day-of event will be an exciting place to be," Probst said. "We'll have music, food, a kid's carnival and more so that friends, family members and supporters can all have a blast while Edgers are rappelling," said Greg Hayes, WASDEF Executive Director.

Ready to commit to Over the Edge-Williamsport? Sign-up today at otecwe.com/Williamsport and a representative from your nonprofit of choice will reach out to you shortly to begin your adventure. The first step you'll take is creating your own, personalized fundraising website to share with friends, families and coworkers.
